Informative Research

Verification of Employment & Income Waterfall

Automate Your Process with a Comprehensive Digital Solution

Informative Research is a technology platform company that integrates with all verification of employment and income providers. By applying a rules-based decision engine along with an intuitive order experience, lenders no longer have to worry about the work to integrate with multiple providers or the impact on their users

"We love this powerful new solution…IR configured it in a way that eliminates unnecessary orders, fully integrates with our existing systems and successfully addresses the pain points of a cumbersome process. Everybody wins." Kevin English, New American Funding
